Launching out into the Deep....
Into New Spiritual Depths

From the Rector's Desk

I am offering Advent Reflections for your reading and meditations this Advent. There are four devotions and they are offered by bishops from the Anglican Church of Canada and the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Canada, the Episcopal (Anglican) church and the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America. As you know, the Anglican Church and the Evangelical Lutheran Church are in full communion with each other.

The first devotion (Advent Sunday) is written by Elizabeth Eaton. She is the Presiding Bishop of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America. The last devotion in the series (Advent 4) is written by Fred Hiltz, Anglican Primate of Canada. I commend these devotions to you.

Prayer - “God beyond time, help us to live in the tension between what you have done and what you will do, and into the truth that Christ will come again.” Amen

By Elizabeth Eaton – The Burpee Seed Catalogue is the epitome of beauty, grace and proportion. Its pages display the Platonic ideal of which my garden is a poor reflection. Leafing through the catalog I have been beguiled by images of perfect vegetables and beautiful flowers.

I remember my first encounter, my first brush with the excitement and danger of the Burpee's catalogue, a phone and a credit card. It was the page with the fields of lavender. I could turn our Columbus, Ohio house into Provence! But the fact that our lot was small enough to mow the lawn with a weed whacker brought me back from the abyss. I decided to order tulip bulbs instead.

Tulip bulbs must be planted in the fall. (They also must be planted right side up I discovered, but that is another story.) We all know how autumn is in the parish: the start-up of Sunday School, choir rehearsals and committee meetings. I didn't plant in September or October.

Finally, toward the end of November, I took my tulip bulbs, bone meal and trowel and set out to transform the backyard. Soil in Ohio is often clay. It was cold. It was raining. It was muddy. My husband would look out the back window and shake his head. After a while even the dog left me. By the time I had finished it was dark and the backyard was a soupy, lumpy, clay-ey mess. But all I could see were rows of brilliant red tulips warmed in the spring sun.

Advent is an odd season. It isn't culturally accessible. It doesn't lend itself to retail. There are no made-for-TV movies telling heartwarming stories about the great and terrible day of the Lord. It is an unsettled season that holds in tension the now and the not yet, longing and hope, judgment and redemption. This is clear in the readings for the First Sunday in Advent.

In Isaiah, the people of Israel are languishing in Babylon. The nation had been defeated, the Temple destroyed, Jerusalem sacked and the people forced into exile. Israel had experienced the liberating power of God in the Exodus. Israel was waiting to be set free from exile in Babylon by God with that same power. The people are pleading with God, "O that you would tear open the heavens and come down so that the mountains would quake at your presence" (Isaiah 64:1). They were caught between the first Exodus and waiting for the second exodus, this time out of Babylon.

In Mark, Jesus tells his disciples that the Son of Man will come in clouds with great power and glory. "Then he will send out the angels, and gather his elect from the four winds, from the ends of the earth to the ends of heaven" (Mark 13:27). But Jesus does not give a timeline. To his disciples, to the early church, to us, Jesus is not talking so much about here as about near.

We have celebrated the first Christmas. We know that the babe in the manger grew to adulthood, inaugurated the new age of reign of god and was crucified. We are on the other side of the first Easter, the resurrection, the triumph over sin and death. We confess, "Christ has died. Christ is risen." But we find ourselves in the muddy, lumpy mess of a fallen world.

Scripture tells us that "God saw everything that God had made, and indeed, it was very good" (Genesis 1:31). We have heard Jesus' promise from the cross to the criminal: "Truly I tell you, today you will be with me in Paradise" (Luke 23:43). And yet we live in a world still marred by sin. What a terrible tension: we stand between two Edens, the one at the dawn of creation and the one at the close of the age.

Now we can see the beautiful logic of Advent. Where the culture (and my heart, too, if I am honest) celebrates and holds on to the manger and the star, the shepherds and wise men, to Mary and Joseph and the Christ child, the church calls us to look for the return of the King. Advent deepens the tension between what the world was created to be and what it now is, between what God has done and what God will do.

To our muddy, soupy, lumpy mess – when we walked in darkness – God sent God's midnight Son. Because of Emmanuel, God with us, we can stand in our clay and see glory. Advent is the season when we can say, "Christ has died. Christ is risen. Christ will come again."

In the meantime, we plant tulips and wait for Spring.

Baptismal Preparation:

In preparation for baptism, it will become the practice in the parish that the priest will visit the family for information purposes and to get to know them.

The Saturday before the baptism, the parents and godparents will meet at the church, at an agreed upon time, for preparation. This is a teaching time for baptism.

Following the service, the priest will continue to have follow-up with the family.

Baptism will usually be the first Sunday of the month but often due to work commitments of the family, we may have to work with them to find another alternative.

“TODAY” & “OUR DAILY BREAD” - Please pick up the latest copy of “Today” and “Our Daily Bread” for your daily devotion. They are on the table in the foyer. We are encouraging people to use them for their own spiritual growth. Please put a quarter in the container provided, so we can support these ministries.

MILESTONES

Congratulations to Jennifer Tucker on being chosen Valedictorian at her High School Graduation last week. She received numerous scholarships, including The Governor General’s Award and The Centenary of Responsible Government Award. She also received the highest mark in Math and Science. What wonderful accomplishments, Jennifer!!

A Stewardship Thought for the Week

A significant change in Christian maturity happens when we move from saying, “Why doesn’t somebody do that?” or “why don’t you do that?” to “why don’t I do that?”

Our giving pattern, as we grow, takes just the same course.

Church Chuckle

The children were lined up in the cafeteria of a Catholic elementary school for lunch. At the head of the table was a large pile of apples.

The nun made a note and posted it on the apple tray: “Take only one. God is watching.”

Moving further along the lunch line, at the other end of the table was a large pile of chocolate chip cookies. A child had written a note, “Take all you want. God is watching the apples.”

Notices

If anyone would like to make a donation in memory of a loved one, we are in need of one blind for the church. Please contact Rev. Keeping if you are interested.

As a church, we are called to help needy people in our community and province. The need in this parish at this time of the year is not great. November 16th, 2014

Regular Giving                      $1,560.00

Maintenance Fund – It is time to speak once again about our Church Maintenance Fund. Now, that we are into the last quarter of our church’s financial year we want to encourage people to continue giving to this Fund. We know that some regular contributors have dropped off and we want to encourage them to give for the long term. Please use your “Pink Envelope” to contribute this Fund so when the time comes for repairs there will be funds available. November income will be reported next week.

Recyclable Donations: - for your convenience, boxes are located near Sharpe’s Store on Thorburn Road and Country Convenience, corner of Old Broad Cove Road and Bennett’s Road. This is a project of the ACM. If you can help with sorting the recyclables on Monday or Tuesday nights please call John Parrell. Your help is needed.

Dismissal to be sung at the end of the service:

“Go now in peace, never be afraid. God will go with you each hour of every day.

Go now in faith, steadfast strong and true. Know he will guide you in all you do.

Go now in love and show you believe. Reach out to others so all the world can see. God will be there, watching from above.

Go now in peace, in faith and in love.”
